THE PROVIDENCE ATHENAEUM
BIBLIOGRAPHIC HOLDINGS INFORMATION

2.3   In September 1998 the Athenaeum brought up its' first integrated online library system. The system (Innovative Interfaces Inc.) is shared with the Rhode Island School of Design Library, and was partially funded by a grant from the Champlain foundation which supports online access to collections and the sharing of resources. Our WebPAC is available at www.providenceathenaeum.org.
In addition to providing RHILINET members with access to our holdings through the internet, our titles are accessible through OCLC. To date the Athenaeum has approximately 35,000 bibliographic records online. The library plans to add approximately 8,000 titles to the online catalog each year (3,000 in-house and 5,000 through an outside vendor)

Serials:

Our current periodicals are available in the online catalog. As a recent member of CRIARL the Athenaeum is investigating the possibility of adding our holdings to the CRIARL Union List of Serials.
